

Bernie Cornfoot and Sons Earthmoving was first established in the mid 1980s with a single truck and trailer.

The company has since grown to include a range of plant and heavy equipment servicing mining, construction industry, water resources, and agriculture industries.

We place safety above all else. In planning, administration, and delivery of works; we have a culture that ensures each of our employees is not only empowered to ensure safety, but they are enthusiastic in doing what is necessary to make sure everyone leaves work as, or better than they arrived.

For all civil construction and earthmoving projects, contact us for information for contract pricing, hourly hire (wet or dry), site supervision and management.

We are available for contract or plant hire works throughout Australia.
